THE CLIENT

MoneySmart is Southeast Asia's leading financial comparison platform allowing customers to make smarter financial decisions across different aspects of their daily lives. With a presence across Singapore, Taiwan, and Hong Kong, MoneySmart helps 100+ million people make better financial decisions.

THE CHALLENGE

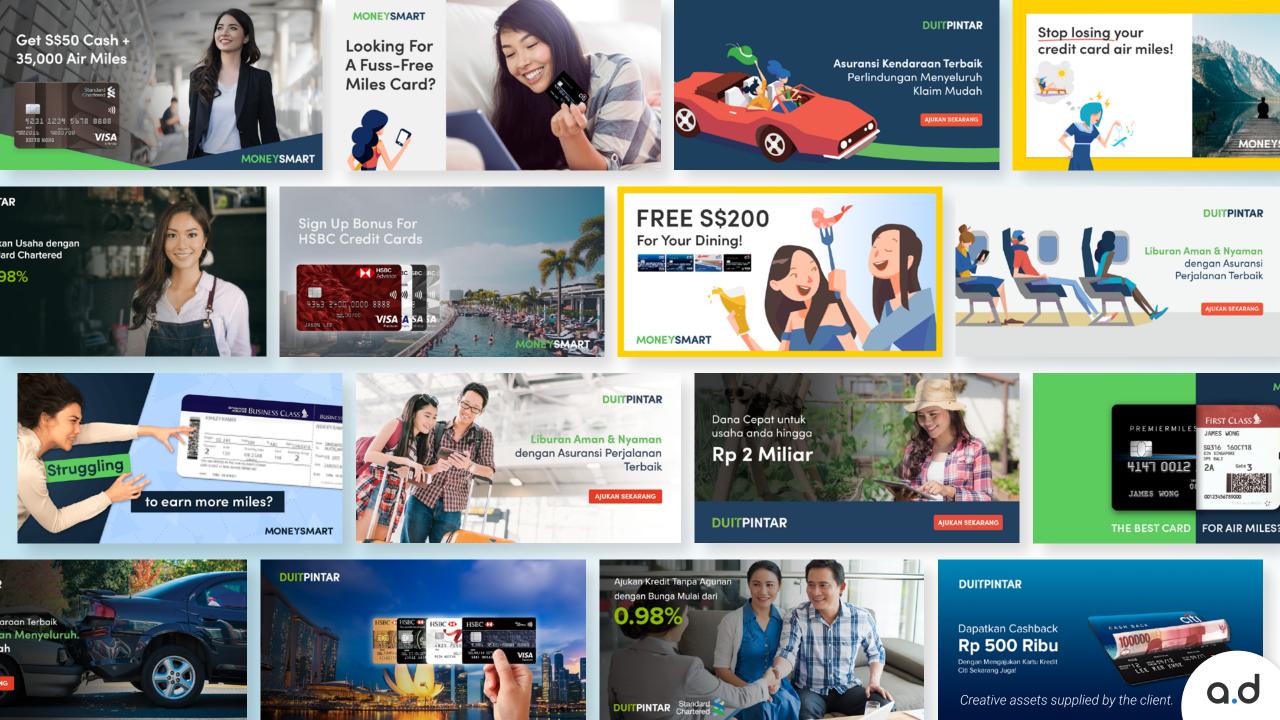

As a brand, MoneySmart was looking for an embedded partner that could rethink its performance marketing strategy while implementing a new setup across markets and paid channels. The goal was to focus on efficient and consistent growth in applications across financial product categories while maintaining CPA. End-to-end tracking was set up allowing MoneySmart to link back media investments to revenue from approved applicants. This integrated tracking setup resulted in more efficient customer acquisition over time as media budgets could be allocated based on ROI.

THE SOLUTION

Understanding the business objectives, the admiral digital team started off with a detailed audit of the existing accounts and campaigns. Insights gained from the audit, in combination with market specific research, was the starting point of a complete account rebuild. The new performance marketing strategy was driven by detailed search intentions, micro audiences fed from a DMP and a highly granular campaign structure. The new structure allowed for granular CPA targets to be assigned and resulted in a much better overall ROI.

100% Functional regional performance marketing setup

47% Increase in number of applications over 6 months

We integrated two full-time, senior performance marketing consultants operating as an extension of the MoneySmart marketing team and successfully established a fully functional regional performance marketing setup. Our four-staged approach of 1) audit and strategic research to drive insights, 2) build campaigns based on user journeys, 3) test and learn with minimum bids, and then 4) scale vertical / product specific inventory towards maximum cost per lead while analyzing the quality of channel specific leads down the funnel, led to a 47% increase in the number of applications in just over 6 months.

Admiral has been a solid partner and extension of my team since 2019, supporting a range of digital marketing strategies during a critical stage when MoneySmart was building out advanced marketing automation (CRM) capabilities and growing the marketing team. Admiral played and continues to play a significant consultant role for marketing growth investments and a very capable managed campaign support and services for paid media activation, using our CDP and first-party customer data strategy. We love a good agency / client board meeting once the job gets done!
